INVITATION

The Indian Association of Occupational Health (IAOH) is the largest professional organization in the country which is active in the discipline of occupational and environmental health and is committed to the promotion of health & safety at work. We believe that purposeful and involved occupational health services at the work place as envisaged by the International Labour Organization (ILO), is the best channel through which modern medicine can help industry achieve positive health and productivity.

We are pleased to inform you that the IAOH along with governmental & non-governmental stakeholders has won the bid to host the International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH) 2027 International Congress in Mumbai, India. Founded in 1906 in Milan Italy, ICOH is an international professional organization dedicated to scientific research, knowledge, and development of Occupational Health and Safety. Today ICOH has over 2000 members in 93 countries.

The 77th National Conference of the Indian Association of Occupational Health (OCCUCON 2027) will be in conjunction with ICOH 2027.

On behalf of the Organising Committee, it is our immense pleasure to invite you to ICOH 2027, the 35th Congress of the International Commission on Occupational Health. Scheduled from 14th to 19th February 2027 at the Jio World Convention Centre, Mumbai, this milestone event brings together occupational health professionals, policymakers, researchers, and industry stakeholders from across the globe.

ICOH 2027 is positioned as the premier international forum for advancing workplace health, safety and Sustainability. It will present a dynamic blend of cutting-edge research, policy discussions, and innovation showcases that address the pressing challenges of occupational health in the modern world. As industries adapt to changing technologies and workforce dynamics, ICOH 2027 will offer timely insights and foster impactful collaborations.

We invite you to participate as a Partner, exhibitor, or an advertiser at ICOH 2027 and contribute to shaping the future of occupational health in India. With a rich scientific program, global participation, and a powerful platform for engagement, ICOH 2027 promises unmatched opportunities for industry partners to connect, showcase, and lead.

Join us in Mumbai and be part of a pivotal global movement to create healthier, safer, and more sustainable workplaces.
