MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR GENERAL

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL OF INDIA

It gives me immense pleasure to invite you to SANKALP 2027 – A Safety, Health & Environment (SHE) Conclave, being organised by the National Safety Council of India (NSCI) on 25–26 February 2027 in Jaipur, Rajasthan.

India is moving rapidly towards Viksit Bharat, driven by industrial transformation, technological advancement, digitalization and new models of sustainable growth. These developments bring tremendous opportunities, but they also create new challenges for workplace safety, occupational health, environmental stewardship and organisational resilience.

SANKALP represents a collective resolve—a resolve to make safety an integral part of business excellence, to place the health and wellbeing of people central to the organisational progress, and to make environmental responsibility an essential element of sustainable development.

Against this backdrop, SANKALP 2027 – "Safe & Sustainable Workplaces for Viksit Bharat" seeks to bring together industry leaders, CEOs, CXOs, Government and regulatory authorities, safety and occupational health professionals, environment and sustainability experts, researchers, institutions and other stakeholders on a common platform.

The Conclave will provide an opportunity to exchange knowledge, experience, innovative practices and emerging solutions that can help organisations move beyond conventional compliance towards a culture of prevention, resilience and continuous improvement.

I look forward to welcoming you to SANKALP 2027, in Jaipur for two days of thought-provoking discussions, expert insights, knowledge sharing and meaningful networking. Let us come together to transform vision into action, challenges into opportunities, and safety excellence into a foundation for sustainable progress.

Dr. Lalit Gabhane
Director General
National Safety Council of India

Hosted By National Safety Council of India

Established on 4 March 1966 by the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India, the National Safety Council of India (NSCI) is a not-for-profit apex body promoting Safety, Health & Environment (SHE) across the country.

NSCI supports industries through safety training, audits, consultancy, hazard identification, risk assessment, safety ratings and management systems. It also conducts national campaigns, recognizes excellence through safety awards and shields, and organizes national and international conferences.

Through training, awareness initiatives, guidance resources and collaboration with Government, industry and academia, NSCI works towards creating safer workplaces, healthier people and a sustainable, resilient India.
